Fresh air was just what she needed. She decided to go to the Big Park. she had been there with her parents several times and she loved it. Therefore, she left the house and took the bus to the destination.

When she arrived, she saw that there were a lot of people at the Big Park. One could say that everyone had the same idea. Mary Rose looked at the children playing and the dogs running and barking. She immediately forgot her problems. The sky was blue and the air was fresh. She found a space near the fountain and she decided to go there and admire the view.

Suddenly, a dog ran towards her and knocked her over making her fall into the fountain. All her new dress was wet and her hair was a mess!! She couldn´t believe her bad luck!

A man and a woman ran to help her. The couple took her hands and pull her up from the fountain. She was embarrassed and furious. Mary Rose thanked the couple and tried to smile at them. The white Pitbull was near her wagging his tail. He was trying to tell her how sorry he was and tried to make her smile with his funny and gorgeous face. Mary Rose looked down at the dog and made a face.

- "Who are you? Where is your owner?" She asked and the dog waved his tail rapidly. A man approached her and smiled.
- "I am very sorry!" He said with his face all red. "My name is Ernesto and my friend here is Draco". He said and gave Mary Rose his jacket.
- "Well, hello Ernesto and hello Draco". She said.
- "I think I´ll have to invite you an ice-cream". Ernesto said to her. "Don´t you think Draco?"

Mary Rose smiled and sighted. "Well, I need a towel and I suppose there isn´t one near. I accept that ice-cream". Draco wagged his tail rappidly and Ernesto put him on his leash. He helped her to step outside the fountain and they laughed. She was really wet!

LISTENING 2!

THE BEAUTY OF OLD DAYS

Have you recently received a letter, or a postcard? Do you remember how was the feeling when you received it in your mail, and eagerly opened it? Have you sent one? If you have, do you remember how incredible the feeling was when you licked the stamp and glued it on the envelope with happiness? If you do not, you should try it!

In the fast-paced time we live in, we are so immersed in the computers and in their new applications that we simply rest in the comfortable system of texting and receiving messages in our phones, computers, or tablets. Nowadays everybody has the same penmanship called Times new Roman, Arial, or Calibri. Now we are unrecognizable! We have forgotten how to make it personal. Reading one person's handwriting, you can remember the good moments with them; maybe smell the aroma of their perfume. You can touch the ink on the paper when you read a letter. You can smell a crayon, a pencil; laugh at the first misspelled words from a child; you can fall in love again by touching the handwriting of your loved one.

If you receive a letter by traditional mail, you can feel the warm feeling of that friend, relative, or lover that has taken some of their time to write you from a place in the world, because you are special. You will know that they were thinking about you.

Picture that person dedicating a day looking for a paper to write on, preparing what she or he was going to tell you, walking to the nearest post office, buying a stamp for the postcard or envelope, and sending it just for you.

How wonderful!

Thus, what if you send this next Christmas Eve a letter written by you, or a postcard with your picture on it or with the picture of your pet? This will surely be a treasure for the ones you love, and love you back.

Send your heart and send your smile written in a letter!
